SCENES FROM SALONE

Making a big-splash debut, MandiCasa—a new endeavor by Dario Snaidero—peppered its way throughout partner booths at Salone, showcasing its new offerings for kitchens and baths, like D'Art by Gianvittorio Plazzogna Design. Available in a variety of configurations and finishes, storage and good design are always top of mind. mandicasa.com

Among its marble marvels given the stage during Milan Design Week, Salvatori's Omphalos table by John Pawson earned its place in the spotlight. Available in circular or square forms and Bianco Carrara marble or Crema d'Orcia limestone, the low tables appear to defy gravity. salvatoriofficial.com

Baxter Made in Italy presented an indoor-outdoor experience at Salone's fairgrounds, in moody hues of moss green, baby blue and plum, along with a dramatic redesign of its showroom Baxter Cinema, featuring Draga & Aurel's fiberglass Nuvola light. miami.baxter.it

To celebrate exhibiting with Salone since the show's inception in 1961, Visionaire imagined Mythica: dramatic themes that traveled through a house-sanctuary, paying attention to the rooms in a home that spark emotion. Draga & Aurel dreamed up the sandblasted Amos dining table in this vignette. visionaire-home.com
